Issue 1

It was with great sadness that we received the news of the death of Queen Elizabeth II yesterday. For the vast majority of us in the school community, we have known no other sovereign.

The Queen dedicated her life to the service of others and remained calm & constant in her duty in a world that was often very far from calm & constant. For that we owe her both our respect and a debt of gratitude.

This afternoon, most of the children attended a special assembly to remember and celebrate Queen Elizabeth's life and work. They may want to talk to you about this at home.

In the coming fortnight, we will be thinking about how best to remember her & to mark her passing. In the meantime, I know you will join me in extending our deepest sympathies & best wishes to Queen Elizabeth's family.

Dear mums, dads and carers

I wanted to take this opportunity to extend a very warm welcome back to all of you, children & families alike, to our new school year. It has been so good to see everyone again in the playground & in classes; everyone looks so happy to be back at school!

I'd like to offer an especially warm welcome to those of you who are new to our school - welcome to the 'extended family' of Stebon; it's great to have you here.

We had an absolutely brilliant year last year - children worked their socks off to catch up on lost learning & we ended the year with end of key stage outcomes that were way above the national averages ... of course! This is what is possible when you have a team of great teachers working with children who try their hardest & parents who care deeply about their children's progress and who support their children to do their very best.

This year, we are ready to continue that journey onto even bigger & better things. With some brilliant new staff - including 2 new leaders - we're all really looking forward to the year. It's certainly been an excellent start. Children are settled in classrooms, working hard, learning loads & being kind to one another. What more could we ask for?

Kind regards

Jeremy
